The figure is a cross-section profile of a ditch, labeled 'MOLENBEEK' in red text. The profile shows the terrain (cyan line) and the bed (black line) of the ditch. The ditch is located in the center of the profile. The terrain is relatively flat on the left and right sides, with a slight dip towards the ditch. The bed of the ditch is shown as a series of vertical lines, indicating the depth of the ditch at various points. The profile is divided into several sections by vertical lines, corresponding to the data in the table below.
